DEFINITE ACTION FOR COUNTY FAIR

Temporary Organization is Effected and Committee Appointed to Secure Options on Land and Make
Report to Town Meeting.

Definite steps towards the organization of an Adams County Fair Association were taken on Wednesday evening when a number of Gettysburg citizens and Adams County men met at the City Hotel and took preliminary action to this end. Samuel G. Spangler was elected temporary chairman and W. L. Hafer temporary secretary.

Various estimates were placed on the capital which would be required to finance the project. It is thought that about thirty five acres of ground will be necessary for the first year of the fair and a committee of five was appointed to secure options and collect data relative to starting the work. This committee consists of Fred G. McCammon, C. Wm. Beales, C. B. Dougherty, E. H. Plank and Joseph B. Twining and will make a report at a public meeting in the Court House at a date to be announced by the president.

It is the intention of the promoters of the fair idea to be ready for the first annual exhibition next year and all efforts will be directed toward the accomplishment of this end. An immense quantity of lumber will be used here by the government for the battle anniversary celebration and it is believed that this material can be purchased after the event at a much lower price than would otherwise be possible and a large saving would be made at the very outset.

Several directors of the Biglerville poultry and apple show, to be held in that place in January, were present at the meeting of the fair promoters on Wednesday evening and they were directed to invite the Biglerville Poultry Association to participate in the Adams County fair.

The fair idea has been launched in a more or less desultory manner at various times for years past but no earnest effort, similar to the one now in progress, has ever been made and it is believed that hearty co-operation on all sides will follow the action of those who have taken the first steps toward giving this county an agricultural exhibit second to none in this section of the state. The display of grains, fruits, vegetables and other things made in Gettysburg on Saturday, Farmers' Day, was convincing proof that the people of the county could take care of the exhibit and if only Gettysburg furnished a suitable place.

It is needless to say that, if the fair idea is carried out, it will be done with all the attention to detail that can be desired. It will be fully equipped with the necessary buildings, a race track and accommodations for "midway" and Gettysburg will have an attraction of which it may well be proud.

DON'T WANT TO GIVE UP ROOMS

College Students Object to Allowing
Use of their Rooms by Distinguished Visitors at Time of Battle Anniversary.

Decided opposition is manifested by the college students to the plan to turn over the dormitories at the time of the battle anniversary celebration next year for the use of the President of the United States, the governors of the various states, the diplomatic corps and other prominent people who will be here. This week's number of the "Gettysburgian," the students' organ, contains a rather lengthy editorial stating the students' wishes in the matter and their reasons for objecting.

"The students realize," says the editorial, "that a stupendous problem arises in the effort to furnish comfortable lodging for the honored hosts who will visit this place of historic renown in the event of the proposed celebration, but they are at the same time unwilling to see the rooms which they must lease for the school year used by outside parties during vacation."

The "Gettysburgian" says further: "The vacation occupants would have the privilege of using the furniture and equipment of the rooms without the owners' consent. This entails a strong liability to loss and destruction of student property. No satisfactory measure can be advanced by which either of the foregoing unpleasant conditions might be satisfactorily relieved. A large number of students contemplate returning to witness the event themselves and we believe all who do this should be granted the right to use their own rooms."

The students' appeal will likely be fruitless as it comes after the negotiations for turning over the college buildings have been concluded with the representative of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission.

M'SHERRYSTOWN

McSherrystown, October 31—One day last week several young men of this place were out with guns, practicing for the opening of the hunting season, when Dr. Russell, local game warden, met them and went through the pockets of a Ridge avenue sportsman. Of course, there was no game found on the fellows and they lived to tell the story.

Bernard Noel, of North street, has accepted a position in the freight office of the Western Maryland Railway, in Hanover. His brother, Riley Noel, is also employed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Eline, of the National Hotel, took a ride behind his speeder "Mercury" on Sunday, visiting friends in Bonneauville and "way stations."

George W. Timmins, of Main street, lost a valuable horse on Saturday night. He had been working the horse all day and in the evening noticed something was wrong with the animal. When he went to the stable Sunday morning he found the horse dead.

A large number of our people on Sunday drove out to see the ruins of the fire Saturday night on the farm of Emanuel King, near Irishtown. The barn was a total loss, as everything in and about the barn was burned to ashes—not even the heavy pieces of timber could be seen.

MRS. JACOB W. FLICKINGER

Mrs. Sarah C. Bender, widow of the late Jacob W. Bender, died at her home in Hanover, at 11 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, from a complication of diseases. She was aged 75 years, 3 months and 27 days.

There are also two grandchildren, Paul Blocher, of Littlestown, and Mrs. John Hoffman, of Carlisle, Pa.

SAY TOWN BOYS ARE ORGANIZED

Residents Claim that Some Town
Youths Operate here as Organized Gang and Commit Petty Thefts. Are Investigating.

That a gang of small boys is operating in Gettysburg with an organization that might do credit to full grown men is the belief of parties in town who have suffered from their depredations during the past few weeks. The attention of the police has been called to the condition and an investigation is being made.

According to the version of the parties who looked into the matter one or more of the boys will discover when a place of business is left vacant for a few minutes and then notify others of their opportunity to get hold of the cash drawer or money box. The Tawney bake shop has been robbed of small amounts several times recently and, on one of these occasions, at least, this method was employed, it is said.

Milk bottles are declared to be a special object of attack and the aggregate sum of money obtained after pilfering pennies from numerous door steps is sufficient to buy those things which are dear to the heart of the youth of today, soda water, picture show tickets, candy and other things necessary to the "health and happiness" of young America.

It is the intention of the people concerned to get sufficient evidence to establish the boys' guilt beyond all doubt, showing how they work in co-operation, and then to bring it to the notice of their parents and the authorities with the hope that the practice may be stopped without bringing the youths into public disgrace.

YORK SPRINGS

York Springs, Oct. 31—Mrs. Quincy W. Hershey, of Avon, N. Y., is the guest of H. B. Hershey and family.

The chestnut crop in this section is a very light one and the nuts are being sold here to the merchants at 12 cents per quart.

William Anderson had 62 head of cattle here on last Friday and sold 24 of the heifers, cows and steers at public sale. One Holstein heifer brought $81.50.

Nearly a thousand people attended the public sale of Mrs. John A. Gardner, near Hunters Run on Saturday and 200 of these were fed with an old fashioned sale dinner. Mrs. Gardner will store her goods in the E. J. Myers house until spring when she will resume housekeeping.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. Sarah O. Gardner, Tuesday, November 5.

George Dietrick and wife, of Biglerville, were the guests of Baine Beamer and wife over Sunday.

HURT IN RUNAWAY

Frank Furney, who lives on the avenue between the Emmitsburg road and West Confederate avenue, was injured in a runaway on Wednesday afternoon in which he sustained a number of painful, though not serious bruises. He had been hauling hay for Edward Scott to freight cars on the Round Top siding and the horses, usually very gentle, started suddenly while he was on the way home, and got beyond control. He was thrown over the dash board. The horses and wagon were not hurt.

MRS. LYDIA B. STOFFER

Mrs. Lydia Beales Stoffer died at her home at Lisburne on Sunday night of blood poisoning aged about 66 years.

SHERMAN FOND OF GETTYSBURG

News of Vice President's Death Received with Regret. Liked the Town and Admired the Battlefield.
Was a Visitor.

The news of the death of Vice President James S. Sherman at his home in Utica, New York, Wednesday evening, is received in Gettysburg with profound regret by many persons who will recall his visits to this town.

Vice President Sherman was a great admirer of the battlefield and at the times of his pilgrimages to this place, always had complimentary things to say about the town. His last visit was about eighteen months ago, during the lifetime of Captain James T. Long who took Mr. Sherman and his party over the battlefield in an automobile.

The distinguished visitor was always known for his genial nature and generous, happy disposition so that he was quick to respond whenever he saw anyone in trouble. As the car wound its way out West Confederate avenue they came upon two empty automobiles standing at the side of the road and all the occupants hidden from view by the machines.

"Do you need any help?" called Mr. Sherman, thinking that they had met with a mishap.

"No, thank you, we can take care of this ourselves," came the quick response accompanied by general laughter in which the Vice President joined when he saw that all were surrounding an attractive luncheon which they were enjoying as part of the day's outing.

Mr. Sherman was particularly complimentary to the town at the time of this visit and commented upon the improvements which he noted and the general beauty of this section of the country.

ELECTION OFFICERS WILL HAVE HARD TASK

When the polls close at 7 o'clock in the evening on election day, Tuesday, November 5, election officers in Gettysburg and Adams county, in common with thousands all over the country will exert every effort toward getting out the presidential vote as early as possible.

The election officers will have a stupendous task on their hands. They will have a big ticket to struggle with. There are eight columns of electoral delegates. All the columns contain the names of 38 electoral candidates with the exception of the Industrial ticket, which only has 32 names. There are 298 names on the electoral part of the ticket.

The polls close earlier in some states, notably New York, and it will doubtless be known here who carries the Empire State before it is known who carries Pennsylvania. New York and Pennsylvania are very important battle grounds in this fight, because of the size of the electoral vote and the hard fight in these two big states, and the election officers will place the people in great debt to them if the electoral vote is made public as soon as it is tabulated.

MAKE LIVING BY THEIR WITS

American Adventurers Who Have Got Wealthy Through Shady Deals in South America.

Ever hear of Jim Dugan of Curacao? Well, Jim started a revolution in Central America some years ago, and was put out. He landed in Curacao with a stew and a $5 gold piece. With the money he bought a lottery ticket, and won a prize. While he still had the money a man who owned a saloon, and who was looking for a sucker, sold out to him. But Jim has flourished. He got hold of a seal belonging to an American life insurance company, and he stamps his letters with that, and calls himself the Irish consul. When I was in to see Jim this time I found that everything passed as currency over his bar. He has a drawerful of such things as false teeth and glass eyes, and one morning I saw a man come in and ask for liquor and then calmly take out his eye and put it on the counter.

But in Buenos Aires there lives and operates an American who is the prototype of J. Rufus Wallingford. He makes a specialty of turning out old masters and selling them at fancy prices to the wealthy Argentines, who like to blow their money for works of art. This chap got hold of a Frenchman who can paint, and he does the actual work, and they dry them with electric fans. When I was there the electric fans were playing on three Van Dykes. There was an elderly woman, a bit daft, who fancied she was stuck on the president of Argentina. What does the American do but get hold of a man who knows the old lady, and cause him to persuade her that the president is partial to Van Dykes. Soon she gives the American an order for a painting, and he collects the sum of $10,000, of which the go-between gets $1,000 and the artists $500. The last report I had from him was to the effect: "You ask about the nutty old lady? I am getting afraid she might rub some of the paint off that old master, and this would affect my artistic sensibilities."

This chap has got hold of all sorts of concessions. When I first knew him, by the way, he was a colonel in the Nicaraguan army. One of his most successful ventures was to start a watch club, in which you pay one dollar for initiation, and then run the chances of getting a watch. Well, the American showed a high municipal official in Buenos Aires that in a watch club there is a pretty big percentage for whoever is running it, with the result that 40,000 policemen and other government employees were ordered to become members.

VICE PRESIDENT DIES IN UTICA

James S. Sherman Passes Away After Long Illness.

UNCONSCIOUS FOR HOURS

He Passed Away Surrounded by Members of His Family—Physician Attends Widow.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 31.—James Schoolcraft Sherman, vice president of the United States, died at his home in this city.

The vice president, who lapsed into a state of coma Tuesday, never rallied and passed from unconsciousness to death.

Dr. F. H. Peck issued this statement concerning the last moments of the vice president:

"The vice president died without regaining consciousness. His end was perfectly quiet. He died in the presence of his wife, her brother and sister, his two brothers and his three sons and their wives. He died perfectly unconscious since 7 o'clock in the morning, when he had a period of partial consciousness for about fifteen minutes. He died in an uraemic coma as the result of Bright's disease, heart disease and arterio sclerosis."

The vice president was able to say a few words to his wife and Dr. Peck during his lucid moments early in the morning, but he never spoke thereafter.

Mrs. Sherman is in a state of near collapse as a result of her husband's end, and Dr. Peck is ministering to her, while her three sons, Sherrill, Richard and Thomas, are seeking to comfort the grief-stricken mother.

A message notifying President Taft of the vice president's death was flashed a few minutes after the end came.

Sherman Was Born in 1855. James Schoolcraft Sherman was born in Utica, N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855. His father was Richard U. Sherman, an editor and at one time rather prominent figure. He went to a public school at New Hartford, N. Y., and from there to Utica academy. He was graduated from the Whitestown, N. Y., seminary in 1874, and from Hamilton college in 1878. Two years later he was admitted to the bar.

He married Miss Carrie Babcock at East Orange, N. J., on Jan. 26, 1881. Their three sons, Sherrill, Richard U. and Thomas M., are all in business in Utica. Mr. Sherman first became prominent in politics as mayor of Utica, to which office he was elected as a Republican in 1884. Previously he had been a Democrat. He was elected to the Fiftyeth congress in 1887 and served two terms. In 1892 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention and the following year was again sent to congress, where he served until his election to the vice presidency in 1908.

Sherman belonged to the school of Republicanism nowadays popularly called "regular," and he fought his political battles shoulder to shoulder with men of his faith without compromise or flinching. Like every public man, he had critics, some bitter, but he also had friends who were a match for his enemies. The events he helped to shape are so comparatively recent that history cannot assign him to his proper place until it also records the work of his contemporaries.

Two sessions of congress found Sherman defeated and out of office, but not for long. Henry W. Bentley, of Oneida county, beat him by less than a thousand votes in the race for the Fifty-second congress. In the interim Sherman went back to Utica, built up his law practice and returned to the Fifty-third congress with a signal victory. He remained in the house without defeat to the Sixtieth congress, when he was nominated and elected vice president on the ticket with Mr. Taft.

His first year in the house brought him into close association with leaders. Joseph W. Bailey, later a senator; Breckinridge, Bryan, Bourke Cockran, Crisp, Dabell, Dingley, Oliver, Henderson, Payne, Paynter, Reed, Wadsworth, "Fighting Joe" Wheeler and a score of others whose names became household words in discussions of the tariff and other national policies, were his fellows. The senate held such men as Aldrich, Allison, Cockrell, Daniel Frye, Gorman, Hoar, Hill, Teller, Vest and Wolcott.

Sherman went to reside over the senate just about the time when what popularly is known as senatorial dignity was beginning to feel its first break. In the chair Sherman was dignified, fair in his rulings, his colleagues said, quiet, firm, sure and seldom reversed on an appeal. But dignity so far as the traditional senatorial frock coat and silk hat were concerned generally was absent. He regarded his time presiding over the senate as a day's business, to be attended to as if he were sitting in his bank in Utica or at the directors' table of one of the many enterprises in which he had found a fortune and laid the foundations of another for his sons. He usually appeared in a business suit, on a hot day he came in flannels, on a very hot day a palm leaf fan displaced the gavel and perhaps a glass of lemonade topped off the book of rules.

ventions in 1895, 1900 and 1908 Mr. Sherman was temporary chairman. He was slated for that position for the state convention at Saratoga two years ago, at which Henry L. Stimson was nominated, but was shelved through the efforts of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Sherman attained great wealth through the formation of trolley and water companies in New York state and as president of the Utica Trust and Deposit company, which he founded. The latter is the sole business venture with which his name has been prominently identified.

He was not a spectacular figure in politics at any time. Because of his smile he became famous under the sobriquet of "Sunny Jim."

BECKER SENTENCED TO DEATH BY GOFF

Week of December 9th Fixed as Date For Execution.

New York, Oct. 31.—Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant convicted of procuring the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing during the week of Dec. 9. The sentence was pronounced by Justice Goff.

Becker's execution will be stayed, however, by a notice of appeal from the verdict of the jury, soon to be filed by his counsel, which may take a year to determine.

He was at once delivered into the custody of Sheriff Harburger, who immediately left with him to take a train to Sing Sing prison, where the convicted man will be confined until his fate is determined.

The prisoner and his wife, accompanied by the sheriff and deputies left the Grand Central station for Ossining.

Besides the deputy sheriffs those who accompanied Becker to Ossining were Mrs. Becker, John Becker, a brother of the prisoner; John Meagher, a friend of the family; Charles Plitt and Frederick Hawley, the reporter, who testified for Becker at the trial.

Becker rode in the smoker. The sheriff removed the cuff from his left wrist, and as Mrs. Becker sat down beside him he affectionately placed his arm around his wife's waist. A cigar was offered to Becker, but he declined it with thanks.

Once inside the prison walls, Becker was turned over to the chief guard, C. F. Connaughton. As Sheriff Harburger departed he turned to Becker and exclaimed: "Well, good luck to you, old man." "I hope I'll be able to reciprocate some time," answered Becker.

THORNGREETS T. R. IN NEW YORK

Cheered Over 40 Minutes in Madison Square Garden.

MAKES HIS FINAL PLEA

Advocates Recall of Judges and Asserts Platform is Covenant With People Which Will Be Kept.

New York, Oct. 31.—Colonel Roosevelt is back. He spoke last night at Madison Square Garden to over 15,000 people. Over 50,000 persons could not gain admittance. They cheered him for precisely forty-one minutes and thirty seconds.

There was no indication throughout this storm of applause that it was anything but spontaneous. It was directed at Colonel Roosevelt himself. Oscar S. Straus and Governor Johnson, of California, received a hearty welcome from the crowd, but it was Theodore Roosevelt who drew outburst after outburst of cheering and shout after shout of greeting. No one forgot that the colonel had been in great danger and was back among his people again.

Throughout the long tumult Colonel Roosevelt stood at the front of the platform looking out upon the cheering audience. The strain showed itself in his face, which was not as full as when New York saw him before his wound. By the end of half an hour his face was gleaming with perspiration and his jaws were snapping nervously as though he were bent upon keeping himself in trim for the speech.

But it was clear that he was enjoying the thunderous reception. Time and again his face broke into smiles and up would go his left arm in greeting to his friends. He made no effort to use his right hand at all, but a gesture of the left was enough to set the crowd into uproar after uproar.

When at last the uproar was quelled and the colonel was able to start upon his speech his voice rang as clear and his accents were as determined as ever. His speech was a plea for social justice. He argued that the issues now before the country are as vital and scarcely less critical than those which the states faced in the sixties. It was the Progressive party and no other which offers to the people of the United States relief from the tyranny of the few.

The following are some of the main points of his speech:

"We recognize in neither court nor congress nor president any divine right to override the will of the people expressed with due deliberation in orderly fashion and through forms of law."

"Our purpose is to shackle greed cunning as we shackle brutal force, and we are not to be diverted from this purpose by the appeal to the dead dogmas of a vanishing past."

"Our platform is a covenant with the people of the United States, and if we are given the power we shall live up to that covenant in letter and in spirit."

Colonel Roosevelt was the last of the three speakers. Before him were Oscar Straus and Governor Johnson. They centered their remarks upon Colonel Roosevelt, his record and his ideas. Every reference which they made to him brought thunders of applause. The audience was keyed to the uttermost throughout the two hours of preliminary for the coming of Colonel Roosevelt.

Can You Doubt It

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of Gettysburg testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a publicly recognized Gettysburg says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony?

Mrs. M. A. Gilbert, 128 W. Middle St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have had no need for Doan's Kidney Pills since I used and publicly recommended them some years ago. They are the best kidney remedy to use. My health was all run down owing to disordered kidneys. I didn't have much of an appetite and couldn't sleep well. My back and head ached and I had dizzy spells and chills. Whenever I caught cold I felt worse. One of my relatives advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at the People's Drug Store. It didn't take this remedy long to remove my trouble."

Your Kidneys Need Cleaning

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right Now.

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise, and yet the teeth are not one tenth as important to health, strength and a long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes again and again? And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood, and it stays in the blood and causes disease in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism, for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid in the blood, and uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

Just go to the People's or Huber's Drug Stores today and get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known. Take it regularly for two weeks, and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder, and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed by the People's and Huber's Drug Stores to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder, or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and will bring the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents add $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

TURKS EXECUTE 300 OFFICERS AND MEN

Put to Death For Cowardice in Battle.

Constantinople, Oct. 31.—A wireless dispatch to Kustendje, Rumania, from the war scene says:

Three hundred Turkish officers and men have been executed in connection with the panic among the Turkish troops at the taking of Kirk-Kiliseh by the Bulgarians. Prince Aziz, commander of part of the Turkish force which was routed at Kirk-Kiliseh was among those court martialled and shot for cowardice.

According to narratives told by refugees from that city, the troops at Kirk-Kiliseh were composed almost entirely of reservists. They were under-officered, ill-trained and badly fed. Several of the regiments at the time of the fighting had been without rations for forty-eight hours.

A night attack upon the Bulgarian advance guard was ordered by the Turkish commander, but the energetic defense offered by the Bulgarians disconcerted the Turkish troops and a panic set in. The troops dispersed, abandoning in their flight their guns, rifles and ammunition. Mahmoud Mukhtar Pasha tried to stem the panic by shooting several fleeing soldiers with his revolver. Prince Aziz Pasha joined in the flight.

After consultation with Abdullah Pasha, the commander of the Turkish troops at Adrianople, by telegraph, Mahmoud Mukhtar Pasha ordered a general retreat, fearing it would end in a general rout. With part of his division he took a position on the fortifications to the northwest of Kirk-Kiliseh in order to cover the retreat of the rest of the army.

Some of his troops broke into panic and refused to stay with him. Hilmi Pasha shot a number of them down with his revolver. After that, by coolness and energy, he succeeded in retiring with the greater part of his division.

It had been reported that he was on the vessel.

Detectives who searched the ship at the request of the Belgian consul were informed by Captain Juhan and passengers that when two days out from Havre a passenger booked as Louis Labarge jumped overboard and was drowned.

The suicide was said to have occurred shortly after the receipt of a wireless message requesting that Wilmar be held and turned over to the New York police.

GREATEST BATTLE OF WAR RAGING

Fierce Fight Going on Around Adrianople.

RESULT MAY DECIDE ISSUE

Turks and Bulgarians Numbering 150,000 Are Engaged in Desperate Struggle.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 31.—After two days' fighting the Bulgarian army has gained a complete victory over the principal Turkish forces. The Turks have retreated in disorder. The town of Lule Burgas has been taken.

London, Oct. 31.—A big battle, perhaps the decisive one of the war, is proceeding somewhere to the east of the line from Constantinople to Adrianople, between the Turkish and Bulgarian armies, and heavy fighting also is taking place around Adrianople itself.

Beyond the fact that a clash has come, however, the general staffs of the Turkish and Bulgarian armies are keeping the outside world ignorant as to how things are going with them. No news has come through from the scene of action except the dispatch from Naxos Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, saying: "The position is favorable to the Turks."

While admitting that they have to depend on mere rumors and suppositions, military critics are inclined to believe that the Turkish army is at last ready to take the offensive and has a chance of retrieving itself.

The Bulgarian troops have obviously suffered a check in the vicinity of Adrianople, as dispatches from Sofia report the arrival there of many wounded from the front, and it is announced that the Bulgarian plan of storming the great fortress has been delayed until reinforcements arrive.

The Turkish commander's plan is not clear, but it is believed he will attempt to relieve Adrianople and its garrison of 50,000 men, while at the same time holding the Bulgarians on his left flank.

A dispatch from Constantinople says: "The Turkish commander-in-chief, Nazim Pasha, telegraphs that a big battle has been in progress since Wednesday morning. The troops engaged on both sides number 150,000. Nazim pasha says the position of the Ottoman troops is favorable."

According to an official dispatch received by the Ottoman embassy in London the Bulgarian army was defeated by the Turks at Visa, Remil and Seral. The Turkish loss totaled 800 killed and wounded.

Constantinople also reports that Mahmoud Mukhtar's division of the Turkish army repulsed the Bulgarian troops, inflicting severe loss on them, at Tcherlesskeul, on the Tchorlu river, and on the railroad midway between Constantinople and Adrianople. This news, if true, would not necessarily indicate a serious Bulgarian reverse. It probably means that the Bulgarians have been checked in one of their movements to the east and south of Adrianople, and should not be taken as having an important bearing on the outcome of the general engagement.

Zekki Pasha is gathering the remnants of his army at Monastir to meet the advancing Serbians and the allied Bulgarian column. It is thought he may make another Plevna of Monastir and prepare himself there for a long siege.

From Belgrade come reports that the Serbian victory over the Turks at Velea was accomplished by the cavalry, which divided the Turkish force, while the Serbian artillery drove them from their positions.

The Turkish troops defeated by the Serbians and Montenegrins in the district of Novibazar are arriving in hundreds in Bosnia, having crossed the frontier.

The Greeks occupied the Turkish town of Verria without resistance, according to a news agency dispatch from Athens. The Greek army is now within fifty miles of Salonika and it is believed the railroad from Verria to that city is still intact.

The street on which is situated the United States consulate is barricaded at both ends and reinforced by barbed wire.

SIX SISTERS PERISH IN FIRE

Sacrifice Their Lives to Save Children in Burning Orphanage.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 31.—Six Sisters of Charity of St. John's Orphan asylum here sacrificed their lives that they might save the children in their charge when a fire destroyed the orphan's home.

Despite the efforts of the sisters two children were burned to death. Two of the women servants in the asylum were injured.

Mother Superior Mary of the Cross deliberately sacrificed her life for the children. After leaving the burning building she heard a child cry. She rushed back. A moment later she appeared at a window with the child in her arms.

Fire Chief Wright put up a ladder to save them, but before he could reach the window the floor gave way and the sister and the child were hurled to their deaths in the flames. Sister Mary Koska suffered a broken back and legs in jumping from the fourth floor and died later. She missed the fire net.

The other sisters to perish were Sister Frances Posteur, a native of France; Sister Petera Stevens, a native of Ireland; Sister Leonoda Nolan, a native of Ireland, and Sister Monica Monnes, a native of Mexico.

There were ninety children in the home, ranging in age from two to twelve years. The sisters apparently gave no thought to their own lives, as they worked fearlessly in endeavoring to save their charges. The last sister left the building as the walls collapsed.

BIGGEST BATTLESHIP TAKES FIRST PLUNGE

Strong Guard Protects President at Launching.

New York, Oct. 31.—With the vessel's champagne splashed over glistening in the sunshine and Miss Elsie Calder, daughter of Congressman William M. Calder, of Brooklyn, calling, "I christen thee New York," the steel shell of the $10,000,000 super dreadnought that is soon to be the latest "pride of the navy," slid down the ways of the New York navy yard at Brooklyn, into the East river.

It was to Miss Calder's great confusion that she failed to break the champagne bottle on the vessel's bow. She struck the bottle on the vessel's bow three times, but not with sufficient force to break the glass.

As the vessel was sliding down the ways, however, a man grasped the rope to which was attached the bottle. He swung it with such force that the bottle cleared the New York prow and burst with a great pop on the port side.

President Taft sat with Secretary Meyer, Governor Dix, Rear Admiral Osterhaus, J. P. Morgan and others on a platform just off the starboard bow of the dreadnought.

The armament of the New York consists of ten 14-inch guns, the largest ever placed on a battleship in the world. The minor armament will be made up of twenty-five 5-inch rapid fire guns; four 3-pounders for saluting; and four twenty-one-inch submerged torpedo tubes. In addition there will be four 3-inch field guns. Sixty-three officers and 1009 men will man her.

STUDY OF THE COURT OF THE FOUR SEASONS, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

TO the west of the great Court of Honor at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will come the Court of Four Seasons, one of the most elaborate and beautiful of the great interior courts that will lie between the huge exhibit palaces of the main group. The walls of the court will be partly formed by the palaces of Liberal Arts and of Education and by the two great wings of the Palace of Agriculture and partly by the classic colonnades and peristyles that will connect these buildings. The Court of Four Seasons, in classic Italian architecture, is designed by Mr. Henry Bacon of New York, designer of the Lincoln Memorial. In harmony with the title of the court there will, in each of its four corners, be set groups of statuary symbolical of the seasons—Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter. The sculpture will be set in niches screened by colonnades. Mural paintings, also suggestive of the seasons, will form the background for the setting. Mr. Jules Guerin, the noted artist, has charge of the color plan. The Court of Four Seasons will be 340 feet square.

Alcohol for Boys? Go To Your Doctor

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young.

Most Farmers

Do not object to their neighbors and friends hunting on their land or to any others who have due regard for their property, but all farmers do object to the hunter who tramples down grain, tears down fences and does damage. The surest way to protect yourself is to placard your property. Cardboard trespass signs 5c. each, 6 for 25c; muslin signs 10c. each, 3 for 25c. And in order to keep undesirable hunters from coming out to your land and possibly disregard such signs, the best thing you could do would be to place your name in our trespass list. Fifty cents for the entire season. See last page.

the CHOICE of the PEOPLE of all PARTIES FOR CONGRESS

Congressman D. F. Lafean has demonstrated throughout his entire Congressional career as the representative of the people of the twentieth district that he has worked for and secured aid for every man, woman and child in York and Adams Counties without regard to party, creed or color and is deserving of their continued support. He has been the representative of all his constituents and has carried out all the promises made to them. He has allowed no man nor party to dictate to him during his service at Washington and the wishes and welfare of his people have been his only guide. This is why he can rightly claim to be the candidate of all the people of York and Adams Counties in his present campaign for re-election to congress.

Every regular Republican voter in this district should give Mr. Lafean his loyal support. No man who ever sat in Congress from this district or any other ever proved himself to be a more sincere friend and supporter of those policies advocated by Abraham Lincoln, William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and President Taft, which policies have been the means of fostering American industries and in keeping out of this district and the country the menace of foreign competition. Mr. Lafean has been at the helm at all times battling for the interests of the wage earner, the merchant, the manufacturer, farmer and mechanic of his district, and has proven himself a brave soldier in the cause of protection to American interests and American institutions.

Every Progressive Republican, who espouses the cause of Col. Roosevelt and the policies for which he stands, should be ready and eager to give Mr. Lafean his support. No man in Congress has been more zealous in supporting Progressive legislation whenever and wherever opportunity presented itself than has Mr. Lafean. He has demonstrated by his votes in Congress that he could be depended upon to fight for the Progressive cause.

Every Democrat of York and Adams County should see to it that Mr. Lafean is returned to Congress for another term. He has shown by his course that he is independent, fearless and eager to espouse the cause of all his constituents, no matter to what political faith they may belong. Mr. Lafean has never allowed his own political beliefs to interfere with the faithful discharge of his duties to all his people, whether they were Democrats, Republicans or members of any other faction. All have been treated alike and each case called to his attention has been decided upon its merits, without regard to party consideration. He has been eager at all times to work in behalf of all his constituents and has allowed no man nor party to dictate to him. He has opposed the dictates of his own party colleagues in order to reap benefits for his constituents and the district in which they reside.

MERELY MATTER OF "NERVES"

The Nagger, Male or Female, Usually is the Victim of Business or Domestic Worry.

The newest German medical theories, as propounded by the famous Dr. Sadolin, the nerve specialist, is that an occasional family scrap is the finest tonic in the world for married couples, but that continuous petty strife will, in the end, wear out the most vigorous constitution.

The nagger is about the most unhappy creature in existence, however high the bid her husband, but putting up with her, may make for a Carnegie prize for heroism. She doesn't get any real relief from her own sufferings and the more she makes unhappy those about her, the more miserable she is herself. If her husband will only stay scared half to death for the next couple of weeks, they stand a fair chance of getting along together, in the philosophical German view of a marital predicament which is peculiar to so many households.

There are, however, other authorities who are less inclined to advocate the extreme measure of a rebellious and insubordinate husband. Indeed, on this side of the Atlantic, there are prominent physicians who do not hesitate to say that we have men naggers who are as bad as the worst woman who ever swore to love, honor and nag the meekest of males. These experts put most of the trouble, which ever the nagger's sex, on plain everyday "nerves." That is the way such cases are regarded by Dr. Charles S. Potts, professor of neurology at the Medico-Chirurgical college of Philadelphia.

"It is hard to say which sex becomes the more irritable under prolonged nervous strain," declares Prof. Potts. "Men can be mighty cranky, especially to their subordinates in the business world, when they are worried and run down. There are probably thousands of employees in the United States who can name men bosses who are confirmed naggers—worrying, wearying, overnice, persecuting and annoying taskmasters who appear to take delight in continual faultfinding. Well, some of them are born that way, as some women are naggers by inherent disposition. But the majority of them, like the majority of women naggers, are just unfortunate whose own worries and inner discomforts are reflected in their attitude toward those about them. Apart from those who happen to be born with bad dispositions, it is the nervous exhaustion of life that predisposes women, as well as men, to nagging."

To insure the highest per cent. of fertility in the eggs, stock ducks need bathing water, but this does not necessarily mean that they must have a stream or lake on which to disport themselves.

Uncle Joe's Divination.
One summer, in the back woods of Missouri, where I had accompanied Uncle Joe Cannon on a tour of the state stumping, a funny incident occurred at the close of a speech which the former speaker had delivered to a crowd of rustics, one of whom approached with extended hand, saying, with warmth:
"Hullo, Mr. Cannun! Reckon yo don't 'member me?"
"Of course I remember you!" said the other, accepting the proffered hand of the farmer. "I remember you very well, indeed. How's the good wife?"
And the old white mule—how's he pulling along?"
"By crackey!" laughed the farmer. "To think you'd 'member old Petel! Oh, he's still eatin' his head off, thanks!"
Later in the evening I spoke to Cannon and asked him how he chanced upon the mule episode.
"To confess the truth," smiled the old man, "such a thing never entered my mind. I didn't know the man from Adam; but when I saw a long white hair on his coat I took a chance."—Judge.
